

How an Idol is made

[making bamboo structure -- wrapping the structure with straws-- eating clay on straws-- leaving for drying-- colouring-- decorating with cloths and ornaments-- ready for sale.]

Clay idols are made through some long stages. At first a bamboo structure is made with some ropes. Next the structure is wrapped with some straws. After that clay on straws is put well to make a shape. Then it is left for drying in the sun for a few days. Thereafter it is coloured well. Next the idol is decorated with clothes and ornaments. Finally the idol is ready for sale in the market.

Downloaded from: www.WebExam.in